Greetings,

Welcome to a fall semester like no other! For our students who are returning, we are sure campus looks a lot emptier than what you are used to, and things just don't feel quite the same. For those of you who are new to campus, welcome! We fully recognize that this might be a hard time for you to be new to the campus and college life. While opportunities to gather in large groups for social and athletic events are currently on hold, we want you to know that the College of Education Advising Office staff is here to help you all as you settle into your classes. Feel free to schedule an appointment with us through MavConnect. We are available for both in-person and Zoom appointments. Our goal is to help keep you on the right path toward successfully completing your degree. We are here for you!
